

ISO 14199:2015-09 (E)

Health informatics - Information models - Biomedical Research Integrated Domain Group (BRIDG) Model

Contents		Page
Foreword		iv
Introduction		v
1	Scope	1
2	Normative references	1
3	Terms and definitions	1
4	Abbreviated terms	2
5	Overview of conceptual representations of the BRIDG model	2
6	UML-based canonical representations	4
6.1	General considerations	4
6.2	Sub-domain UML views	4
6.2.1	Common	4
6.2.2	Adverse event	4
6.2.3	Protocol representation	4
6.2.4	Regulatory	4
6.2.5	Statistical analysis	5
6.2.6	Study conduct	5
6.3	UML-based models and views	5
7	RIM-based HL7 representation	5
7.1	General considerations	5
7.2	RIM-based models	6
8	Ontological OWL-based representation	7
9	Other additional information	7
9.1	Uses of BRIDG	7
9.2	User's guide for the BRIDG model	7
9.3	Release notes	7
9.4	BRIDG maintenance process	7
9.5	BRIDG change list	7
Bibliography		8