ISO 21511:2018 (E)

Work breakdown structures for project and programme management

Contents

Foreword

Introduction

1 Scope

2 Normative references

3 Terms and definitions

4 Work breakdown structure concepts

- 4.1 General
- 4.2 Purpose
- 4.3 Context
- 4.4 Hierarchical decomposition
- 4.5 Parent–child relationships
- 4.6 Progressive elaboration

5 Work breakdown structure characteristics, development and relationships to other structures

- 5.1 Characteristics of a work breakdown structure
- 5.2 Development
- 5.2.1 General
- 5.2.2 Creation
- 5.2.3 Description of the project or programme work breakdown structure elements
- 5.2.4 Composition of the work breakdown structure dictionary
- 5.2.5 Integration of multiple work breakdown structures
- 5.3 Work breakdown structure relationships
- 5.3.1 General
- 5.3.2 Relationship to organizational breakdown structure
- 5.3.3 Relationship to contracts
- 5.3.4 Relationship to functional areas
- 5.3.5 Relationship to other structures
- 5.4 Control of work breakdown structure
- 5.5 Uses and benefits of the work breakdown structure
- 5.5.1 Uses of the work breakdown structure
- 5.5.2 Benefits from the work breakdown structure

Annex A (informative) Work breakdown structures — Examples

Annex B (informative) Links with other breakdown structures — Examples

Annex C (informative) Alternatives hierarchical work breakdown structures

Page count: 23