

DIN EN ISO 9173-2:2010-10 (E)

Dentistry - Extraction forceps - Part 2: Designation (ISO 9173-2:2010)

---

| Contents    |                                                                | Page |
|--------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Foreword .....     |                                                                | 3           |
| Introduction ..... |                                                                | 4           |
| 1                  | Scope .....                                                    | 5           |
| 2                  | Normative references .....                                     | 5           |
| 3                  | Terms and definitions .....                                    | 5           |
| 4                  | Designation .....                                              | 5           |
| 4.1                | General .....                                                  | 5           |
| 4.2                | Pattern number .....                                           | 5           |
| 4.3                | Functional designation .....                                   | 5           |
| 5                  | Marking, labelling and catalogue entries .....                 | 8           |
| 5.1                | Marking of extraction forceps .....                            | 8           |
| 5.2                | Labelling on the primary packaging of extraction forceps ..... | 8           |
| 5.3                | Catalogue entries .....                                        | 8           |