4.2.2	Standard observer .....	4
4.2.3	Geometric conditions .....	4
4.2.4	Illuminance .....	4
4.2.5	Visual angle of subtense .....	4
4.2.6	Background .....	4
4.2.7	Surround .....	4
4.2.8	Additional/other considerations .....	5
5	Observers .....	5
5.1	Evaluation of colour competency of candidate for observer in studies on acceptability or perceptibility in dentistry .....	5
5.1.1	Ishihara colour blindness test .....	5
5.1.2	Farnsworth-Munsell 100 hue test .....	5
5.1.3	Test for colour discrimination competency in dentistry .....	5
5.2	Guidelines for observer selection for acceptability or perceptibility evaluation in dentistry .....	5
5.2.1	General tests .....	5
5.2.2	Test for colour discrimination competency in dentistry .....	5
5.2.3	Testing intervals for qualified observers .....	6
6	Testing of acceptability and perceptibility thresholds .....	6
6.1	Tissues and materials to be tested for perceptibility and acceptability thresholds .....	6
6.2	Test methods .....	6
6.2.1	Visual judgments .....	6
6.2.2	Instrumental evaluation .....	6
7	Application and interpretation .....	6
7.1	Colour compatibility .....	7
7.1.1	Colour compatibility between dental material and human tissues .....	7
7.1.2	Colour compatibility between dental materials .....	7
7.1.3	Coverage error of dental shade guides .....	7
7.2	Colour stability .....	7
7.2.1	Colour stability during fabrication/at placement .....	7
7.2.2	Colour stability after aging and staining[12] .....	7
7.3	Colour interactions .....	7
7.3.1	Colour shifting of aesthetic restorative materials[13][14] .....	7
7.3.2	Masking potential of opaque materials .....	8
