Systems and software engineering - Developing user documentation in an agile environment

Contents		Page
Foreword		iv
Introduction		v
1	Scope	1
2	Conformance	1
2.1	Application of conformance	1
3	Normative references	2
4	Terms and definitions	2
5	User documentation processes in an agile environment	4
5.1	Relationship between user and life cycle documentation processes	4
5.2	Life cycle software documentation in an agile environment	5
5.3	Life cycle documentation in agile development	6
6	Management of information development in an agile environment	6
6.1	Documentation management considerations for agile development	6
6.2	Change management when moving to an agile development process	7
6.3	Composition of agile development teams	7
6.3.1	Communication in agile development teams	8
6.3.2	Teams working in different locations	8
6.4	Management of information development across teams using agile development	9
6.5	Management of tasks across sprints	9
6.5.1	Planning the project as a whole	9
6.5.2	Sizing and resourcing each sprint	10
6.5.3	Handling last-minute documentation changes	11
6.6	Monitoring and analysing progress in an agile environment	11
6.6.1	Status meetings	11
6.6.2	Monitoring progress	12
6.6.3	Rework and changing requirements	13
6.7	Stakeholder involvement	13
6.8	Improving the user documentation process in an agile environment	14
6.8.1	Assessing customer satisfaction	14
7	Developing user documentation in an agile environment	14
7.1	What agile development means for information development	14
7.2	Product design and developing the user documentation	15
7.3	Design and development of user documentation in an agile environment	16
7.3.1	Design techniques	16
7.3.2	Information development tasks	20
7.3.3	Planning of information units	20
7.4	Testing and reviewing documentation in an agile environment	20
7.4.1	Reviewing user documentation	20
7.4.2	System test of documentation	21
7.4.3	Usability testing of user documentation	21
7.5	Translation and localisation of user documentation	22
7.6	Production for manufacturing cycles	22
