Information technology — Office equipment — Method for measuring digital copying productivity

Contents

Foreword

Introduction

1 Scope

2 Normative references

3 Terms and definitions

4 Test parameters and conditions

- 4.1 Copying device setup
- 4.2 Copying device condition
- 4.3 Sample size
- 4.4 Paper
- 4.5 Maintenance
- 4.6 Preparation of test targets (test charts)
- 4.7 Environment
- 4.8 Voltage

5 Test method

- 5.1 Overview
- 5.2 Test measurement procedure
- 5.2.1 Test setup
- 5.2.2 “1 set” test from ready
- 5.2.3 “1 set + 30 seconds” test from ready
- 5.2.4 “1 set + 4 minutes” test from ready
- 5.3 Test method process
- 5.3.1 Suggested flow chart
- 5.3.2 ±5 % consistency criteria
- 5.3.3 Estimating the set count
- 5.3.3.1 Overview
- 5.3.3.2 ‘1 set + 30 seconds test’
- 5.3.3.3 ‘1 set + 4 minutes test’
- 5.4 General performance test
- 5.4.1 Overview
- 5.4.2 Measurement of FSOT and ESAT
- 5.4.3 Measurement of EFTP
- 5.5 Feature performance test
- 5.5.1 Overview
- 5.5.2 Features setting conditions
- 5.5.3 Measurement of FSOT and ESAT

6 Calculations and treatment of data

- 6.1 Overview
- 6.2 General performance test
- 6.2.1 “1 set” test from ready
- 6.2.2 “1 set + 30 seconds” test from ready
- 6.2.3 “1 set + 4 minutes” test from ready
- 6.3 Feature performance test
- 6.3.1 “1 set” test from ready
- 6.3.2 “1 set + 30 seconds” test from ready

7 Presentation of results

7.1 Sharing testing and reports
7.2 General performance test
7.2.1 Overview
7.2.2 Minimum declaration
7.2.3 Summary report
7.2.4 Full report
7.3 Feature performance test
7.3.1 Overview
7.3.2 Summary report
7.3.3 Full report

Annex A (informative) Report presentation

A.1 General
A.2 General performance test
A.2.1 Minimum declaration
A.2.2 Summary report
A.2.3 Full report
A.3 Feature performance test results
A.3.1 Summary report
A.3.2 Full report

Annex B (normative) Full detailed report example

B.1 General
B.2 Machine setup information
B.3 Machine general performance test results
B.4 Machine feature performance test results

Annex C (normative) Test targets for measurement of copying productivity

Annex D (normative) Procedure to establish ready delay time

Annex E (informative) Definitions of “FCOT” and “continuous copying speed”
